THE UNIVERSALIST CHURCH OF WINCHESTER

Where the Denomination was Established

In 1803 the Rev. Hosea Ballou established a new faith and a new declaration of belief in the town of Winchester in which he was preaching — and so Winchester has become known as the birthplace of Universalism and if it can be stated, — the Universalist Church of Winchester is the mother church of all Universalist churches throughout the land. The history of the church is a record of success and satisfaction of large well to do and educated congregations of able leaders and ministers who have left their record of work and endeavor in many ways. Along with the establishment of the Universalist Church is the story of the Methodists and the Congregationalists and now after many months of consideration these three faiths are to merge into a church federation to be conducted on a non-denominational basis and a call has been extended to Rev. George T. Carl of Dighton, Mass., which has been accepted. The services of the Federated Church will doubtless be held in the Congregational Church building though the Methodist and Universalist Church will also be used for other purposes.

Rev. George T. Carl is Pastor of Winchester Federated Church

Rev. George Truman Carl has accepted the call to the pastorate of the new Federated church in Winchester extended to him by vote of the congregations of the three churches. He is expected to arrive in Winchester sometime this month so that the pastoral work may get well under way by May 1.

Mr. Carl is a graduate of Carthage college, 1924. He was president of the college Y. M. C. A., member of the student council, captain of the debating team, had four years of football and during his junior and senior years was pastor of the Presbyterian church.

The new minister served as instructor in mathematics and biology, and director of athletics in Barry High school and was also pastor of the Hull, Ill., M. E. church, 1924-25. The following three years, 1925-28, he was pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in Plymouth, Ill.

Since 1928 he has been a student at Boston university, school of theology, and will graduate in June.

During his work in the university he has been pastor of the Dighton Mass. Methodist church.

At the present time Mr. Carl is first vice - commander of Taunton post, American Legion. He served 18 months in the World war.

Mr. Carl is 31 years of age. He married Florence Z. Weber of San Jose, Ill., in 1926. She is an honor graduate of Illinois Woman's college, Jacksonville, Ill., 1926.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl have three children, Robert Weber, four years, Ruth Genevieve, 17 months, and Margaret Joy, five months.

Couldn't Find Fire

Wednesday evening the fire department of the Forest Fire Warden and a number of local men were summoned out Warwick Road to fight a supposedly existing wood fire but no fire could be found. All hands returned thankful that there was no hard work to be done.

Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the members of the First Parish (Unitarian) will be held in the vestry of the church on Monday evening, April 27 at 7.30 o'clock.

Herald Opening A Big Success

VISITORS INTERESTED IN MACHINERY AND WORK GREETINGS EXTENDED

The official opening of The Northfield Herald plant took place on Wednesday after announcement had been made of the event. Invitations were issued and extended to newspaper men — town officials — and others and when the hour for opening arrived, the visitors were greeted by the officers of the corporation and shown through the plant. The large Whitlock press was printing the first forms of the newspaper and the new automatic Chandler and Price press was printing some job work.

The Intertype — one of the latest built — was in full operation and moulding type bars faster and more perfectly than printers in the old days set by hand.

The office was very attractively furnished and a large basket of flowers from the First National Bank and Trust Co. graced the desk of the President.

Subscriptions were received by the Treasurer and a large number were recorded. A large number of visitors poured in and out of the plant at both afternoon and evening hours and everyone marvelled at the facilities of this most modern plant. Visitors were present from Greenfield, Winchester, Ashuelot, Hinsdale and Warwick as well as representatives of several business houses. Letters and telegrams of congratulations poured in and expressions of well wishes were everywhere manifested.

In leaving the plant the women were handed a portfolio of Old Deerfield stationery with the compliments of The Northfield Printing Co., a box of Whitman candy with the good graces of The Northfield Pharmacy and a bag of Astor House coffee as a gift of Mr. Fred A. Irish, representing the Nation-Wide Stores.

P. T. A. Holds Meeting

The Parent and Teacher association held a meeting Friday evening April 17th in Alexander Hall Mrs. Carroll Miller the president presiding.

The High School Glee Club's singing was much enjoyed, led by Marian Webster music supervisor, at the piano.

The speaker was Dr. George McPherson superintendent of the State School in Belchertown, Mass. His subject was The Mental Health of the Child.

Of the population of the state which is 160,000 at the present time 2 per cent or about 80,000 is mentally deficient, some cases are hereditary, others are caused by disease or injury either before or after birth.

There are three forms of mental deficiency namely; the idiot, the imbecile and the moron. The moron by careful training in childhood can be taught manual work so that they can become very useful and self supporting, under supervision.

The old idea that a child should have all the diseases of childhood while they are young is all wrong and every parent and teacher should do all in their power to prevent these diseases. He spoke particularly of the dread disease whooping cough and its many complications and after effects.

Dr. McPherson believes that to "spare the rod is to spoil the child" and that the increasing immaturity among children and adults today is in many cases the lack of adequate discipline during childhood and that the child who has always been allowed to do as he pleases during the first years is going to be out of luck when he comes to battle with the world.

Personals

Miss Grace Blodgett a teacher in West Northfield school visited her parents in Bernardston over the weekend.

Mrs. E. L. Hammond of Greenfield is spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Irish. Mrs. Hammond is a sister of Mrs. Irish.

Mrs. Evangeline Parker and Mrs. Wolcott Webber of Northfield Seminary Faculty, with the Reverend Margaret Barnard of Greenfield are in Boston to attend the Statecraft Institute at the Women's Republican Club.

Mr. Charles E. Graham who has been manager of Lord Jeffrey Inn at Amherst, Mass., for some time has been chosen by Mr. Henry Ford as manager of the new hotel at Dearborn, Mich. Mr. Graham has many acquaintances in Northfield.

Several Northfield people who tune in on their radio for the morning devotion were greeted the other day by the voice of Rev. Robert A. Watson, Pastor of the Reformed Church of Jamaica N. Y. who is well known to many Northfield people as a summer resident in Mountain Park.

An Appreciation Prof. Irving J. Lawrence A Musical Leader

Some organizations import leadership while others develop that leadership. In many instances the Northfield Schools seem to accomplish the latter. Irving J. Lawrence received his background of training in the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston, but his ability at leadership has steadily increased since he came to Mount Hermon in 1912. Beginning with the instruction of individuals, quartets, and glee clubs, Mr. Lawrence became in 1926, the leader of the great combined chorus of Mount Hermon School and Northfield Seminary. This position took courage as well as ability in view of the fact that he was filling a vacancy left by the late Nelson P. Coffin, of Keene, so widely and so favorably known as a choral leader. These spring and fall concerts have become signal events in our Northfield program. Some of us who have been on-lookers for a long time, marvel at the response of each youthful generation to his demands upon them, not only at these concerts but during the dull days of drill throughout the year. Mr. Lawrence's patience, persistence, and pleasing personality wins him year by year the loyal cooperation of his student groups, and Northfield friends find great enrichment of life in the quality and message of the music which he produces. In addition to his work with the Northfield Schools, Mr. Lawrence has for several years helped in the music of the public schools of our surrounding towns.

One of his diversions, and one would guess that he would need some diversion from rehearsals, and more rehearsals, seems to be his flower garden, a spot well worth a visit. Another pastime Mr. Lawrence finds in going out to the more remote churches, often travelling many miles at great inconvenience to himself, to help in the music, always giving generously of his best.

We repeat that, the Northfield Schools in placing responsibility on, and confidence in Mr. Lawrence, have developed him into a strong leader. He in turn has given himself generously and sympathetically to the work.

County Brotherhood to Meet in Northfield

On Tuesday evening April 28th the Franklin County Federation of Church Brotherhoods and Men's Club will meet at the Trinitarian Congregational Church following a supper to be served in two sittings the first at 5.30 p. m. and the second at 6.30 p. m. The evening will be called to order by Willard A. Haskell the President who will also preside. The speaker will be Prof. Charles M. McWorld of Friends. It is expected Connell and his subject will be "A that over three hundred men will attend this gathering.

Just as we go to press information reaches us that Mrs. Edward Anderson of Wilmette, Ill., a sister of Mrs. Ambert G. Moody passed away on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Mrs. Anderson who was Ada Wells was a student at Northfield Seminary in 1890-95. Her burial will be in the family plot at Dover, Ill., on Saturday.

W. C. T. U. Meet

The W. C. T. U. of Northfield met on Wednesday afternoon. After the opening devotion led by Mrs. L. R. Smith and Mrs. N. Fay Smith, a "Membership Play" was presented by the following: Mrs. Pleadwell, Mrs. R. H. Wilder; Mrs. Modern, Mrs. A. M. Wright; Mrs. Sturdy and children, Janet, Dana and Joyce Clark; The Symbolic characters were: "Yes," Mrs. Carl Mason; "No," Mrs. G. N. Kidder; "Ghost," Mrs. Merrill Moore. This playlet was written by Mrs. E. M. Morgan, County President of the W. C. T. U.

After a short business session, the State President, Mrs. Alice G. Ropes, of Boston spoke in a most inspiring way, of the work of the White Ribboners enlisted under a banner which knows no defeat. Visitors from Greenfield and Mt. Hermon were present.

Creditors Advised To Pool Interests

Creditors and mortgage holders of the Interstate Mortgage Trust company, are being requested to pool their interest by Attorney Charles Fairhurst of Greenfield. In a letter the following is contained:

"At the suggestion of a number of persons interested in the affairs of the Interstate Mortgage Trust company, of which you were one, and acting in their behalf, we felt that the interests of creditors and mortgage holders of the company could better be served by the appointment of a receiver, acting under the equity branch of the United States court. To that end we recently undertook to secure the appointment of such a receiver before the federal court at Boston. Some minor western interests thwarted this by filing bankruptcy proceedings, and a receiver in bankruptcy has been appointed.

"It is obvious that creditors and mortgage holders must now proceed to protect their own individual holdings, and reasonably prompt action is needed to learn definitely the status of these holdings.

"It is clear that a personal and individual check-up of each loan must be made, assignments obtained from the company or court (which must be duly recorded), title abstracts and insurance obtained and arrangements made so that the future interest and principal may be paid to the investors, or to some agent whom they may want to act for them in that respect."

Northfield people who are holders of these issues will do well to consider seriously the matter and The Herald learns today that an effort will be made also in Northfield to conserve the holdings of local investors. If you are in doubt upon your future course preserve your holdings, consult the officers of your local bank.

Every Member Canvass Next Sunday

The Every Member Canvass of the Trinitarian Congregational Church comes next Sunday, April 26, from three to five o'clock p.m.

The budget for the year provides for the expenditure of $6,915 for the regular Church expenses, and $2,625 for home and foreign missions and other benevolences.

It is hoped that the committee will receive the full co-operation of the membership.

Northfield Streets Being Cared For

The selectmen have done a very wise thing in their decision to get our streets in proper condition immediately for use. Mr. Callaghan our genial superintendent with a force of men have begun cleaning up, and gravel is being drawn where the roads need it most. Nothing is more important in the appearance of a community than that its streets should be kept clean and in good repair.

Arbor and Bird Day

A proclamation calling for the observance of April 25 as Arbor and Bird day, issued by Gov. Joseph B. Ely, has been received by town officials. It calls upon the schools to hold appropriate exercises and urges adults to set out trees, especially as memorials to George Washington, whose anniversary is to be observed next year with elaborate exercises.

Masons Enjoy Banquet At Sweetheart Inn

Over 270 Masons from all parts of Massachusetts were present at the ninth annual banquet given by Mountain lodge of Masons of Shelburne Falls at the Sweetheart Tea House, and the program proved so popular that not one Mason left until the last strains of "Auld Lang Syne" had died away.

After Rev. W. Johnes Morgan of Turners Falls and Rev. J. O. Purdue of Shelburne Falls had each given interesting and entertaining two minute talks, Rev. John Nicol Mark of Arlington, the main speaker of the evening, who is widely known throughout Franklin county, gave a most interesting address.

Taking as his subject, "The Measure of a Man," Rev. Mr. Mark elaborated on six basic points, namely: The need of a good physical foundation; the necessity of a well-disciplined mind; determination to labor and to wait, and the desire for high ideals. His discourse was interesting, sincere and witty and the laughter of the audience was frequent.

The supper of fried chicken and waffles was greatly enjoyed and the members of the committee and the management of the tea house received much praise for the excellent arrangements. The mass singing under the leadership of Dr. E. C. Marshman of Springfield was loud and enthusiastic.

Those who attended from Northfield were: Frank W. Williams, T. F. Darby, Clarence Steadler, Walter Hyde, Dr. R. G. Holton, Edward M. Morgan, Miles E. Morgan and Ralph Forsaith.

Made Forced Landing

An airplane circling high over Mt. Hermon seemed to be in difficulty last Friday afternoon and the pilot had to make a forced landing in the meadow, field of Mr. Thomas Elder along the river at Hermon. The landing was made successfully without damage to the plane. The cause was engine trouble. The pilot had as passenger a young lady but their names were not learned. They walked to Northfield and telephoned to Brattleboro from Gingers' drug store for an automobile which came to meet them. The plane was left in the field over night and after repairs soared skyward on Saturday morning.

Miss Poor Resigns

Miss Christine Poor, a former student of Northfield Seminary, well known here as a summer resident and for the past seven years secretary of the Greenfield Girls club, has announced her resignation to take effect in July. Miss Poor is leaving her local duties to accept a position as executive secretary of the Girls City club of Northampton.

She has been a popular secretary during her seven years in the local office and her decision to leave is regretted by many friends. The best wishes of the club members will go with the local secretary.

It is understood Miss Poor's successor has been appointed, although announcement of the selection is being withheld at the present.

Union School District

The Union School district comprising Northfield, Warwick, Gill, Bernardston, Leyden, will hold their annual meeting at the Weldon Hotel next Monday evening for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year and also for the election of a superintendent for the next three years.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Beginning with the May 1, 1931 issue of The HERALD it will be necessary for us to discontinue the extensive free delivery which we have maintained.

Under existing postal law regulation it is costing us over $50 a week for postage alone to deliver the edition and it is obvious that this condition must be overcome if we are to continue to send you The HERALD.

At present we are mailing to "Boxholder" and this is very unsatisfactory to us as we have no record of the individual deliveries. This can be rectified if you will send in your name and address so we may have a record of just who we mail to. This will assist us in tracing if you do not receive the paper.

On page 3 of this issue, at the foot of column one you will find two coupons. Fill in your name and address on the upper coupon and return it to us with $1.00 in money or stamps and we will put you on our subscription list to receive The Herald up to July 1, 1932.

If you do not want to subscribe just now but want to continue to receive The Herald, fill in your name and address on the lower coupon — we will continue to send you The Herald during May and if we receive your dollar on or before June 1, 1931 we will put you on the mail list to receive the paper up to July 1, 1932.

The subscription price of $1 is just about sufficient to cover the cost of wrapping and mailing. A large number of readers have already paid their dollar — these will be credited to July 1, 1932.

Just at present we have not fully covered the field in the matter of correspondents, but this is being arranged for and we expect to be able to give you a lot more "local" news in the near future.

Do not wait — if you want to receive The Herald regularly, fill out one of the coupons on page 9 and send to us at once — DO IT NOW!

Beginning with the May 1st issue, The HERALD will be on sale Friday morning in all the various localities in which it circulates and a list of the places will be published in the next edition.

EDITORIAL

The other night in Springfield a number of ex-military men gathered about a festive board gave vent to militaristic exuberance and condemned a certain religious denomination for its attitude upon certain things militaristic. Now there is no question of the patriotism of the individuals comprising both groups and each has a perfect right to its interpretation of what is patriotism and what is not—but this attitude of condemnation by some people of those who do not think along the same line is entirely un-American and does not make for a high citizenship when free speech and a free press are secured to the people, or rather goes back to the years of dominance, arrogance and oppression when humans were mere pawns in the overlords command.

Arbor Day is urged to be observed by the Governor's proclamation and it is fortunate indeed that this should call our attention to the care and preservation of our trees as well as the need of planting them. There is altogether too much wanton destruction of our trees both on public and private lands. It takes years to grow a tree and but a few hours can witness its end. The denuded forests do not afford the full supply of water as they should—for forests retain water and the earth's supply is gradual and longer. Trees are beautiful and they should be properly nurtured and cared for. What can be more ungainly than a house standing out alone in the sunlight without a tree to furnish some shade or at least provide some adornment for the landscape. What is acreage good for when the trees are gone. The trees were God's first temple—let's be reverent among them.

More words of Appreciation of The Northfield Herald

We hear it everywhere. The expression of satisfaction and appreciation of the two former editions of the Herald. Many have so spoken personally—some telephoned—some have written and here are a few extracts from messages:

"I want to congratulate you very heartily upon your achievement, for it looks to me like a mighty fine piece of work; and I want to assure you of my personal delight and best wishes for your continued success."
P. W. E. Hart, Maplewood, N. J.

"Received the Northfield Herald. It was interesting and we subscribe at once."
Hugh D. Maydole
State Secretary N. H., Y. M. C. A.

"Now that the second edition is out and seems to be even better than the first, congratulations are in order. The success of this paper is due in a large measure to the untiring efforts of the manager and editor who spent many hours in the study of local conditions in general."
The people in a community of this size want news, and it looks as though we were going to get."
Dr. A. H. Wright.

"The management and Northfield are to be congratulated on the make-up and fine appearance of the paper. It must be a source of great satisfaction to the good people of Northfield to have such an excellent local newspaper."
John G. Dunbar.

I am delighted with the new Northfield newspaper. I think it the best newspaper ever put out from the town. What impresses me is the lack of crowding, the differentiation of one article from another. You are surely covering the events of the community admirably.
Mr. Elizabeth M. Caldwell

Consolation

Conflict is over,
Victory won,
Life in its fullness
Now hath begun.
Joy and rejoicing
Thrilling a soul,
Reaching its triumph,
Winning its goal.

After life's tumult
Blissed the calm,
After its struggle
Bearing its palm.
Parity, gladness
Finally sealed,
Dawneth a glory
Not yet revealed.

Eye hath not seen it,
Hearth hath not known,
God's blessed secret
Kept for his own.
Peace like a river
Ceaseless doth roll,
One in communion
God and the soul.
Mary Isabella Forsyth.

Are You Saving Tinfoil For the Shriners Hospital?

As you have visited several of the stores in your neighborhood you have noticed a box with the invitation to deposit your tinfoil here. The initial movement in this venture was made by Mr. C. C. Stearns of Northfield who has sent many pounds of this metal to Springfield to be reclaimed for the benefit of the Shriner's Hospital for crippled children. Now you will find boxes everywhere so save all your tinfoil and deposit it in one of these boxes where it will do some good in a worthy cause. On May 3rd the campaign will have been under way for one year and up to this time about seventy-five tons of the metal has been received. It is carried to the New England Smelting works on Union street, West Springfield, to be converted into marketable goods. Since the foil is reclaimed free of charge by this West Springfield company, every penny of profit is turned over to the hospital. The brothers Saffer, Louis, Moses and Abraham, owners of the smelting factory, have donated their services, men and equipment. It is their contribution to what they believe is one of the worthiest causes in the world. So help along the good work and save your tinfoil for deposit in the box for the benefit of the Shriner's Hospital.

Cause of Accidents

The Massachusetts Safety Commission have studied the cause of motor accidents in the state and in the hope that their publication will show the motoring public the specific pitfalls to be avoided, predominating fatal accident causes as follows:

- 1 Operating at speeds too fast for conditions, particularly in residential, congested or business districts and near schools and playgrounds.
- 2 Passing another car going in the same direction when the view ahead is obstructed.
- 3 Failing to keep to the right side of the road.
- 4 Failing to slow down at intersections.
- 5 Failing to slow down on approaching pedestrians.
- 6 Failing to observe the eight-foot law in passing standing street cars.
- 7 Failing to give proper hand signals or use proper lanes when turning.
- 8 Operating with defective lighting equipment and brakes.
- 9 Violation of traffic control devices by trying to beat signal lights and failing to observe stop signs at through streets.
- 10 Dangerous and improper parking, such as leaving machine on state highway, parking in double lines at curves, parking on wrong side of street, and parking too close to a corner.

There are two bulletin boards maintained in Northfield—one at the Bookstore, the other at the Town Hall.

Not Much Rain In Month of April

While the Connecticut River has been unusually high and some of the lowlands have been flooded—while our brooks are running full and there is more water in our springs. Yet it is all largely from melting snows and but little rain in April has fallen. Thus far only four days, have we had rain. An old Northfield resident who has observed weather conditions for many years says that the ground is dry for this time of the year and he looks for a dry season throughout the coming summer.

The new green and gold "1933" class banner was displayed for the first time. Games and dancing were enjoyed, with a special feature dance by Constance Cooley and a balloon dance. AT MOUNT HERMON

The Mount Hermon Players, under the auspices of the English department, gave two one-act plays Saturday evening in Camp Hall before a large audience. "The Minuet," a one-act play depicting a scene in the conciergerie, Paris, 1789, brings together an estranged marquis and marchioness just before they are both to go to the guillotine. It is a costume play with an accompaniment of the violin played by Charles Drury.

The cast comprised E. H. Summersgill, Garden City, N. Y., as the marquis; David E. Brame, Stockbridge, Mass., as the marchioness; and Russell B. Wight, Washington, D. C., as the jailer.

"White Lies," a short farce, develops around some justifiable deceit on Washington's birthday. The actors were Arthur Beane, Cambridge, Mass., as William Gower; Wilbur Eastman, North Haverhill, N. H., as his daughter-in-law; John F. Oberer of Douglaston, N. Y., as Jane, the housekeeper; and A. E. Wesloski, Holyoke, as the agent for the Americana museum.

The management consists of Gordon Falkenau, Mount Vernon, N. Y.; Robert F. Finefrock, Springfield, Ohio, and Judson B. Hall, Grantwood, N. J. Harry A. Erickson is the director.

The preacher at Mount Hermon School last Sunday was Dean James D. Howlett of Colgate University.

Warwick

Mrs. William B. Ryan of Rochester, N. Y., is visiting at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Paul W. Goldsbury.

Miss Anna Ohlson and her sister, Miss Greta Ohlson, visited with friends at the home of their mother, Mrs. Nils Ohlson, over the holiday.

The local brooks have been plentifully supplied with anglers since the opening of the trout season; in fact, according to reports, the brooks are more plentifully supplied with anglers than with trout. While several followers of Walton state that luck has been with them, no one has claimed any records as yet.

A number of residents, together with several out of town visitors, took advantage of the wonderful spring weather over the week-end, and made the trip to the top of Mount Grace. Observer Davidson has extended a cordial welcome to everyone to visit the fire tower, and it is expected that there will be the usual number of visitors this year.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul W. Goldsbury entertained at a most enjoyable whist party given in their home Monday night. Among those neighbors who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Fellows; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Francis; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Davidson; Dr. and Mrs. George L. Taylor; Mr. and Mrs. William E. Taylor; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brenack; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lind;

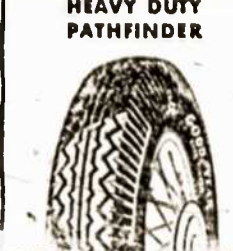

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dresser; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oliver; Rev. George T. Jones; Rev. Arthur D. Wildes; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lyman; Mr. George Shephardson; Miss Katherine Taylor; Miss Edna Brenack; Mr. Carl Nordstedt; Miss Adele Carlson; Mr. Henry Nordstedt; Mrs. William Brandon Ryan; Miss Dwyer; and Mr. John McNabo.

A delicious luncheon was served during the course of the party. The first prize was won by Donald Davidson, who scored 56, and the consolation prize went to Robert Oliver, whose final tally was 23.

Donald Davidson has accepted the post of State Fire Observer, made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Fred A. Lincoln. Mr. Lincoln served the state for nine years, and made an enviable record as observer on Mount Grace. Mr. Davidson reports that there have been no serious fires to date within his jurisdiction, but warns the public that the danger of fire was never more present.

WHITE BIRCHES

Heralding the springtime,
Shimmering clouds of green
Swaying in the south wind
By the brimming stream.

Rustling in the morning,
Listless with the noon.
Phantom forms among the pines
Beneath the summer moon.

Glorious in yellow gold
All October long—
Plaintive little croonings
Make your autumn song.

Stark against the hemlocks,
Murmuring soft and low—
Twisting in the winter gales,
Bent by shrouds of snow.

Help — Help — Help

The committee, of the Centre school playground, would like the help of every one who is in anyway interested in the school with their trucks, teams, hoes, picks, and wheelbarrows to be present next Saturday afternoon at 1.30 p.m., when a "bee" will be held for an hour or two to fill in and level the old cellar hole so that playground equipment may be installed. This will take the children away from the street and the danger from passing traffic also the front yard can be made to look more attractive. There is playground equipment ready to put up as soon as the ground can be put into condition.

A committee was appointed to consider forming a federation of rural ministers of all denominations in Hampshire, Hampden and Franklin counties. The members are Rev. Harold D. Shum of Conway, Rev. Lynn Townsend of Ludlow Center and Mrs. Arthur L. Golden of Blandford.

The Camels—The Camels "Has Come and Went"

The great exhibition and parade of the Ford caravan of motor trucks visited Northfield last Saturday afternoon as previously announced and was viewed by many of our citizens especially those interested in motor transportation. Upon arrival in Northfield the fleet halted at Spencer's Garage—local representative of the Ford Company—and was looked over by town officials—representatives of the Northfield Seminary and farming interests. At a signal from Mr. Ross Spencer, the parade started through the town, he acting as Marshall accompanied by Constable Harry Haskell and riding in a De-luxe Ford roadster. Then followed the band—an ingenious arrangement of a radio-victrola rendering music through a loud speaker mounted upon the top of a Ford commercial delivery. Then truck after truck followed in succession. The police patrol—the ambulances—the funeral hearse—the service wagon—commercial and delivery trucks—for all kinds of uses and purposes. It was a splendid exhibit and Mr. Spencer deserves a great deal of credit in arranging this demonstration of Ford motor trucks. After the parade and visitation the trucks returned to Greenfield via Bernardston.

Forest Fires Rage
in New England

People who enter woods either for business or pleasure should be very careful about starting fire. Smokers are especially warned to be careful as it pays. Thus far this spring nearly 2000 acres have been burned over and several houses have been destroyed. The damage thus far is estimated to be over $500,000. Mrs.
Frank W. Anderson is the Fire Warden in Northfield and since the season is on when permits must be secured — no one should start a fire without consulting him and secure a written permit.

Flies to Detroit

Mr. Fred H. Harris of Brattleboro who is an investment broker and an grade had the least number of tardy marks and was given a party by the fourth and fifth grades. Games were played and refreshments served.

Northfield Center School and East

Holloway who is recovering from pneumonia. Miss Truesdell and Miss Braley attended the meeting of 4-H club leaders which was held at the Mansion House in Greenfield, Satur-

Butterick's Beginner's Patterns are a New Short Cut to Dressmaking

Here, at last, are patterns that take nothing for granted. They don't expect you to be almost "professional." They don't use terms familiar only to old-timers. Instead, there are as few separate pieces to each pattern as possible—in some cases, as few as five. They give you simple, direct guidance along every step—how to measure, how to cut, how to baste, in fact, they do all but the actual work for you! Come in and see how smart they are and you are welcome to ask as many questions as you wish. Make them of

Auto Registration Heavy

The various offices of the State Automobile Registry are extremely busy and the Greenfield office is no exception. Recently many Northfield people have requested licenses and plates and while no figures are available it is quite certain more automobiles are registered here than ever before. The registrations in Massachusetts for the first quarter of this year were ahead of the corresponding quarter of 1930, according to figures compiled at the Registry of Motor Vehicles by Charles R. Gilley. The increase is due to the heavy registrations last month, which totalled 72,804 cars and trucks, compared with 68,088 in March of last year. For the three months period, January to March inclusive, the registrations this year were 636,625 compared with 634,002 in the same three months of 1930, a gain of 1,623.

During the first week of April there was an exceptionally heavy rush and it is believed that this month's figures will be ahead of April of last year.

The prosecuting attorney had encountered a rather difficult witness. At length, exasperated by the man's evasive answers, he asked him if he was acquainted with any of the jury.

"Yes, sir," replied the witness, "more than half of them."

"Are you willing to swear that you know more than half of them?" demanded the man of law.

The other thought quickly. "If it comes to that," he replied, "I am willing to swear that I know more than all of 'em put together."

What is Christianity?

At the South church Sunday morning, the 19th, Rev. Charles C. Conner treated a topic, the first of the people—"What is Christianity?" and "What Constitutes a Christian?" The first portion of it is here reported of which he said in part:

Defining Christianity would be a simpler and easier task if there were but one Christianity. But there is more than one: that of Christ, that of dogmatism, and that of idealism. The first two are historic, yet in two senses, and the latter is in process of structure. That of Christ and that of idealism are very near each other, I think. The principles of the two are identical, or should be; and I shall treat the Christianity of Christ as primary and chief.

But first it may be well to discriminate between this and that other and later form: the Christianity of dogmatism.

Theology, dealing with the attributes and procedure of God, as the word indicates, has provided certain conceptions of Christianity. It was in a way inevitable, and it must not be here overlooked: that theology as a system has been made inclusive of Christianity as a dogmatic part of itself. Another fact is to be considered also: namely, that the theology of the fourth or fifth century and of the centuries between then and now is not the theology of the earliest Christian church, nor that which the church is widely accepting at the present day.

Jesus thought of God as present in the earth in love and care. In Christian epistle we read of "the one God and Father of all who is above all and in all and through all." A theological system made on these grounds would consistently bring Jesus into it as one of many of God's teachers. Made by a Christian discipleship it would name him above others, and might name him alone, but not to the exclusion of others. The pre-eminence of Jesus is in his teaching and in his life. But in all he taught and exemplified his kinship with mankind, and he was received naturally by his first or early disciples as one with them.

Later followers made a God of him, which may be explained. That thought of him came into the theology which was systematized in the Latin church, and became dominant in the Christian church under Latin influences. The Latin conception of God, as distinguished from the early Greek thought, was that He is above nature altogether, that He sits enthroned in the sky somewhat as a Roman emperor, that man without God in the world is depraved, that he needs a Saviour, One who shall obey God's law for him and impute unto him a righteousness in which he may stand justified before God. Christ accordingly, it was supposed, suffered for man the penalty of sin, satisfied the claims of the divine justice, and through his sacrifice man is saved. Hence a system of doctrines as to Christ, a second person of a trinity of Gods, doing for man what man was not able to do for himself, and offering unto him salvation from hell, through faith in him as a superhuman being, is what has been largely known as Christianity. And by the skeptic it is oftentimes or generally confounded with the Christianity of Christ.

Let us pause here to consider that as we turn to the Synoptic Gospels, in which we have the nearest and best verbal picture of Jesus, we find or see no trace whatever of a second person in a Trinity, no hint even that Christ died for man to save him from hell, and no appeal to man's faith on such grounds. In short, every feature of the theology developed in the middle ages is missing in the New Testament picture studied with direct purpose to discover it.

What do we find? We find the record of a life that entered the world when good will and joy to all people were vocal in the upper air. To the song of the heavenly host he kept his heart in tune and his feet in step, and to the will of God whose care for man enacts the law of love in the earth he was obedient unto death.

The truth of God's Fatherhood made the life of Jesus in sonship and brotherhood. Jesus was so lighted and moved by it that he became the brother seeking man in his need; and he has put to work on earth, as no other who has lived, the forces which are to help and bless mankind; forces which shall work everywhere, on other worlds with this, the divine will of good toward all creatures. Open to any page of the Gospel narrative which tells of Jesus in living, acting relations with men, and this truth, or the spirit of it, is seen or sensed: the truth of a Life helpful toward life.

What then is Christianity? It is a life to be lived in love and good will to others, not a system of doctrines to be believed selfishly and fearfully. The true doctrines that become associated with it are the outgrowth of its vital forces of faith and love, and those concerning the future are to be held aloft as ideals to which these forces must work.

Any Christianity of idealism, whatever men may conceive of making it in adaptation to modern demands of life and thought, should be built on the broad foundation of the Christ: on the infinite love of the Father in heaven; and, with men kindly disposed toward men in the spirit of the Christ, and doing good unto all as they the opportunity, it should rise in the world toward the infinite height of a heaven for all, making this world itself the nearest possible approach to heaven.

Tommy was saying his prayers. "And please, God," he asked, "Make Boston the capital of Vermont."

"Why Tommy," said his mother, "what in the world made you say that?"

Tommy settled himself in bed. "Cause," he answered, "I made it that way in my 'amination paper today, and I want it to be right."

Not So Many Onions

According to a report from Boston the onion acreage of the various states be considerably reduced this year. The intended acreage now reported amounts to 50,670 acres, compared with 56,130 acres estimated to have been harvested in 1930, or a decrease of nearly 10 per cent. Compared with the planted acreage in 1930, in which case the crop would be probably about 18 per cent smaller.

Mrs. W. R. Moody who has been ill at her home is now feeling much improved.

Mr. Charles F. Slate the efficient Postmaster at the Northfield Postoffice is a busy man every Thursday, doing splendid service in receiving and dispatching the many bags of mail containing copies of The Northfield Herald for distribution through this area.

A reception for Miss Katherine Everett, director of Camp Arden, five miles north of Brattleboro, at the home of Mrs. A. P. Fitt was held on Wednesday evening, April 22. Camp Arden is a camp of dramatics. Girls come there from all over the country. They give "The Children's Crusade," a medieval drama each summer.

With fields equal to those obtained in 1930, an acreage equal to that now planned would result in a late onion crop exceeding 18 million bushel crop of 1930. It is probably more reasonable to assume that, under average weather condition in 1931, the yields are likely to range from 5 to 10 per cent lower than in 1930, in which case the crop would be between 17,800,000 and 16,400,000 bushels. This reduction would result in a somewhat better price situation than in 1930 but the level of prices would probably still be comparatively low.

Massachusetts which had 2530 acres last year, plans to plant 2000 this year.

Spray Now

Mr. J. H. Putnam the County Agent of the Farm Bureau is urging people especially farmers to do their spraying now. In a bulletin mailed today he says:

If you have red mite in your orchard or should use No. 1. Otherwise use No. 2.

No. 1 Mixture Oil or Oil Emulsion (according to directions on container) for Red Mite, Aphids San Jose Scale.

No. 2 Lime Sulfur (liquid 12 gal. or dry 24 lbs.) Arsenate of Lead, (dry) 3 lbs., Nicotine Sulfate, ½ pt. Water 100 gallons for San Jose Scale Tent Caterpillar Aphids, Bud Moth.

It is gratifying to know that visitors at Hotel Northfield over the week-end were impressed with the shopping facilities of our town. Several complimentary remarks conceiving BOND'S DRY GOODS were particularly interesting.

One lady from New York, shopping for a hair net was greatly impressed with sport dresses on display and purchased two dresses. Later in the day her friends commented on the perfectly gorgeous sport frock she was wearing—she replied—'Yes, isn't it cute. You may not believe it but I purchased this dress down on the Main street, doubt if I could do as well even at home. That boy certainly knows his business!'

Deserves Success

Nowadays it is often said that our young men lack purpose in life—they have no ambition and in leaving school do not know whether they are traveling. Many just get a job and do their small part as the burden bearers of life. When a young man gets the vision of a Horace Greeley and is determined to carve out his own destiny—alone—and make a place for himself in the world, surely he is to be congratulated and one such young man is Fayette Whited of Bernardston. He conducts a little "Print Shoppe" in an old house badly out of repair on the Bernardston-Greenfield Road near Hales crossing and within in blazing his way to success. The Editor of this paper gave the plant a "once over" and found therein Mr. Whited working at his trade as printer to the good people who give him of their work and support him. He has a case of type—a good hand press—a paper cutter—and a binder, a lot of paper and accessories. From his talk I learned that he had started empty handed but through saving had accumulated enough to now be the owner of a small plant. He was a student of the schools in Bernardston and decided that he could succeed at the work which impressed him—and in this way he became a printer. He is a likable "chap" full of pep and ambition and the Northfield Herald extends to him the hope for all the good things he seeks. He has "hitched his wagon to a star"—and in the firmament he will shine as the future rewards him for his energy.

Old Friends

"There are no friends like old friends
And none so good and true.
We greet them when we meet them
As the roses greet the dew.
No other friends are dearer.
Though born of kindred mold,
And while we prize the new ones
We treasure more the old.

There are no friends like old friends
To help us with the load
That all must bear who journey
O'er life's uneven road.
And when unconquered worries
The weary hours infest,
The kindly words of old friends
Are always found the best.

There are no friends like old friends
To calm our frequent fears
As the shadows fall and deepen
Through life's declining years.
And when our faltering footsteps
Approach the Great Divide
We'll long to see the old friends
Who wait—the other side."

Buffum Improves Store

Quite a few improvements have been made to Buffum's General store at South Vernon operated by Mr. H.
R. Laplante. The Post office occupies a larger space and has been enclosed in its former position in the front of the store. The grocery department and the meat department are now open in a large area—the partitions having been removed. Additional tables have been added and goods are displayed with prices attached. It is now a modern and up to date store.
The refrigerator is large and maintains a proper temperature at all times. Mr. Laplante says he will put on a delivery service for summer residents.

Going to Maine?

People hereabouts who are contemplating a trip to Maine would do well to write to the State of Maine Publicity Bureau, Portland, Maine, for the latest road map of the state and other literature which tells all about their summer attractions and resorts.

Personal
Mrs. Kate Fowler, who is with Mrs.
Nellie Haley at her home on Warwick Ave. is reported as being quite ill.

Cheapside Bridge

Construction of the new cement bridge over the Deerfield river at Cheapside is expected to begin soon.
Plans are now being made to have gas and electric light conduits included in the structure and it is understood provisions will also be made for a water main, in order to provide facilities for supplying the town of Deerfield with water, should such service seem advisable at any time in the future.

Firemen Called Out

About nine o'clock Tuesday evening the local fire department was called out to the Boston and Maine Railroad station at South Vernon where from some unknown cause the woodwork of the building near the wooden platform caught fire. The blaze was put out before the department arrived and the loss was negligible.

The Western Mass. Banking

The Western Massachusetts Banking associates are offering, subject to prior sale, 5376 shares of its stock at ten dollars and accrued dividend.
The yield is on a basis of five percent free of the Massachusetts Income Tax. The proceeds of this financing are to be used to increase the Associates' investment in capital stock of the Crocker National Bank of Turners Falls.

School Bus Regulation

Information has reached The Herald Office that a bill in the senate at Boston to regulate motor busses used in the transportation of school children will probably pass. This will create a standard regulation throughout the state and a valuable piece of legislation. We are fortunate in Northfield to have our facilities of so high a standard as provided by the Northfield Transfer. As one travels about and observes the means and methods of the transportation of school children there would be no hesitation in commending the bill before the senate as some Women's Clubs have done.
